Smt. M.M. Shah Mahila Arts College, Kadi, organized an online poster-making competition on ~~Self~~ Self 2020. The event aimed to foster creativity, encourage artistic expression, and raise awareness on various social, cultural, and educational themes. Despite the limitations imposed by the online format, the competition saw enthusiastic participation from 14 students, who showcased their talent by creating visually appealing and meaningful posters.

The primary objective of the event was to promote creativity and allow students to express their thoughts and ideas through the medium of art. It also served as a platform for students to demonstrate their ability to design and create impactful visuals that communicate important messages.

- The competition was conducted entirely online due to pandemic restrictions.
- Participants were required to submit their posters digitally by the deadline.
- The themes for the posters were pre-assigned and covered a range of topics such as environmental awareness, women's empowerment, and social issues.
- Each participant had a specified time frame to complete and submit their entries.

The competition was well-received by the participants, and the judging panel praised the creativity and thoughtfulness of the submissions. The posters were evaluated based on originality, artistic quality, clarity of message, and overall impact. Winners were selected, and certificates were distributed digitally to recognize their efforts.
